Presentation:

BCP and RIM: The Perfect Marriage – the Perfect Partnership

Proper and professional records and information management (RIM), provides the foundation for successful business continuity planning; or the creation of the perfect partnership for emergency planning.

- RIM ensures that critical information is retrievable, authentic, reliable and accurate
- RIM ensures regulatory compliance; a vital element for continuance
- RIM minimizes litigation risks resulting from business interruptions
- RIM reduces operating costs directly associated with business continuity

Speaker: Bill Millican, records and information management (RIM) consultant at Media Services, brings over 30 years of RIM industry experience in developing, implementing and managing RIM processes in a practical, legally compliant and cost-effective way. Mr. Millican is a respected industry expert, and has been involved in the development of standards, guidelines and best practices for the RIM profession.
